

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A web shopping system and method for electronic devices accessible to the Internet is disclosed. Through the OI of the system, a user can enter keywords and obtain commodity item and location information related to the keywords from a designated area after the system
5 is connected to the Internet. By clicking in a purchase order, the user determines which commodity to buy and where to buy. The system then determines appropriate payment and delivery methods, achieving the goal of satisfactory web shopping.